What is material information?

Any material change must be disclosed to the Insurer. A material change is any information which may alter the judgement of an Insurer that has not previously been disclosed as a material fact.

Should you breach the duty of fair presentation:

Deliberate or Reckless – The Insurer May:	Any other Breach – The Insurers May:
Avoid the policy	If insurer would not have entered the contract the claim may be refused and premiums returned.
Refuse to pay any claims	If the insurer would have entered the contract on different terms without additional premium the contract will be treated as if on those terms.
Retain any premium paid <sup>†1</sup>	If an additional premium would have been charged, the insurer may reduce proportionately any claim paid. <sup>†2</sup>

<sup>†1</sup> AXA XL will enforce these remedies. However, there may be cases where the remedy is limited by contract to the insured who makes the breach and does not affect the cover of others insured on this policy

<sup>†2</sup> AXA XL will use the first two remedies where appropriate. However, on the proportionate reduction of a claim we are prepared to consider payment of an appropriate additional premium as an alternative remedy.

The duty of fair representation continues after the dispatch of the completed proposal form, and any supplementary questionnaire if provided for completion, up until the time and date when a contract of insurance is entered into by the Insured. Accordingly, further or additional information or documentation which may affect anything already stated in or supplied with this proposal form, and any supplementary questionnaire if provided for completion, should be notified to the Insurer as soon as possible.
